

Stephen A. McArthur

Partner

T 416.869.2501

F 416.862.8247

smcarthur@mathewsdinsdale.com

Stephen McArthur received his B.A. in 1982 from York University, Bachelor of Laws in 1985 from Queen's University and Master of Laws, (Constitutional Law and the Charter), in 1990 at Osgoode Hall Law School. Mr. McArthur is a co-author of several labour and employment law texts, including "Canadian Construction Labour & Employment Law" (LexisNexis Canada Inc.); Practice Guides for Occupational Health and Safety and The Purchase and Sale of a Business (Carswell).

Mr. McArthur acts as Counsel for many local and Provincial Construction Associations, individual contractors and a range of other employers. In this capacity he provides advice and advocacy in collective bargaining; before the Ontario Labour Relations Board and before various adjudicative bodies and Courts throughout Ontario.

Mr. McArthur is also consistently rated as "repeatedly recommended" in the Canadian Legal Lexpert Directory.

Prior to attending law school, Mr. McArthur spent six years in the automotive industry as co-founder of an engine components manufacturing company. Sandco Automotive Limited grew from a small two-person business to become a drive train parts supplier to OEM with over 200 employees in Ontario.

Before joining Mathews, Dinsdale & Clark LLP Mr. McArthur was for 25 years the founding partner and principal of a labour and employment law firm in Hamilton, Ontario.

Education

Osgoode Hall, Toronto, Ontario, LL.M., 1990
Queen's University, Faculty of Law, Kingston, Ontario LL.B., 1985
York University, Toronto, Ontario, BA, 1982

Bar Admission

Law Society of Upper Canada (Ontario), 1987

Professional Affiliations

Canadian Bar Association
Ontario Bar Association

Practice Areas

Labour Relations
Construction Sector Labour Relations
Union Organizing and Applications for Certification
Employment Standards
Discipline and Termination of Employment
Purchase and Sale, Restructuring and Closure of a Business
Human Rights
Collective Bargaining
Grievances and Arbitration
Judicial Review and Appellate Matters
Occupational Health and Safety

Industry / Sector Experience

Municipal Governments
Manufacturing
Construction
Long-term Care and Nursing Homes
Warehousing and Distribution
Food Products
Steel
Hotels
Shipping and Marine Repair